

Youth Center

Joy Community Church has taken the initiative of surveying the people of the Bay and Goodman area in hopes of assessing their needs and a youth center will address one of the most fundamental necessities within this community, a safe haven that provides a positive and relevant atmosphere for youth. This multi-functional facility is designed to engage youth in a variety of activities. An after school program will provide participants with a nurturing environment where tutoring, computer training and mentoring will help develop skills needed inside the classroom and out. There will also be opportunities for kids to meet in small and large group settings to address the issues and daily struggles that the youth of today face.

Call the church office at 288-0030 for information regarding:

- ✧ Cross-Culture Youth weekly meetings for ages 8 to 17.
- ✧ Monthly Freedom Nights with Gospel Hip Hop activities
- ✧ Monthly meeting for young adults 18 to 35 years old.

Joy Family Medicine

At Joy Family Medicine we offer care for the entire family as well as complete prenatal, maternity, and baby care. We are a Christian medical practice and it is our desire to serve the whole person. We believe good medical care involves paying attention to the body (physical problems), soul (psychological and emotional problems), and spirit (faith related concerns).

All of our doctors, medical associates and staff are committed to providing personal and comprehensive medical care to all of our patients regardless of race, religion or social status.

We accept most insurances as well as provide a sliding fee scale for those without insurance.

We currently see patients on Mondays from 3:00pm-7:00pm, some Wednesday afternoons, Thursdays 12:30 -4:30pm as well as every third Saturday from 11:00am - 3:00pm.

Please call 697-0004 to make an appointment.

The Learning Center

The GNOC learning center will work to equip individuals with the tools needed to compete in today's workplace and to assist them with the life skills necessary to build a successful home. Computer literacy classes, GED classes, job interview instruction, etc. will prepare them for situations they will encounter as a member of today's workforce or as a student in higher education.

These classes will be teamed with an assortment of personal finance, parenting, nutrition and homemaking seminars and workshops designed to address daily facets of life at work, school, or in the home. There will be a fully equipped computer lab comprised of current hardware and software technology and network access that will serve as a valuable resource for those enrolled in classes and will help create an educational environment.

Please call 288-0030 for a listing of classes and time/date information.

The Hope Shop

Having both the heart and hands to reach those in need, the Hope Shop provides groceries and encouragement to those within the community in a clean and safe environment.

The Hope Shop distributes produce on a first-come, first serve basis on Friday mornings after sharing a small meal and Bible study together. They also provide non-perishable items on an emergency basis. In addition, they provide groceries on a larger scale to the community at Thanksgiving and Christmas.

The meal and the Bible study begin at 10:15 on Friday mornings with produce distribution at 11am. If you have a need for emergency food/toiletries items, please call Matt at 288-0030, ext. 226 on Thursdays and Fridays.

Counseling Center

In the midst of today's stress-filled and fast-paced lives, all of us encounter situations (either recently or long-standing) that would seek to overwhelm us. It is during these times that it benefits us to talk to someone.

Here at the counseling center we provide trained counselors who have a heart for you and desire to see you living in freedom.

We will also be providing group and individual sessions for Overcoming Addictions.

For appointments, please call the church office at 288-0030.
